

To ensure the best possible experience for all members in these communities, there are some basic rules and guidelines for participation. By using any community, you agree that you have read and will follow these rules and guidelines.

Community Rules

Please be respectful:

- Respect others. Focus on the content of posts and not on the people making them.
- Respect the purpose of the communities as a whole. Only use them to share successes, challenges, constructive feedback, questions and ideas.
- Respect the purpose of each community. Only post content that relates to that community.
- Respect intellectual property. Only post content that you have personally created or have permission to use and have properly attributed to the content creator.
- Respect the actions of anyone acting on ASPiH's behalf in moderating the communities.

Please be thoughtful:

- Do not post or upload any defamatory, abusive, profane, threatening, offensive, or illegal material.
- Do not be overly critical when discussing products. Posts and library resources in open communities are available for all members to see, and comments are subject to libel, slander, and antitrust laws.
- Do not post anything that you would not want the world to see or that you would not want anyone to know came from you.
- Do not edit your post if the discussion has moved on, and never remove your post without contacting us to explain why you wish to do so.

Please do not use the communities for commercial gain:

- Do not post sales pitches or any other form of advertising for products or services in any community.
- Do not post job advertisements in any community, these must be submitted to donnamajor@aspih.org.uk

Community Guidelines

- Please state concisely and clearly the topic of a new thread in the subject line. Clear topic titles enable members to respond more appropriately to you and it's also easier for them to search posts by subject.
- Please keep the communities tidy by ensuring your post is relevant to the purpose of that community.
- Please do not change the topic of an existing discussion by posting something off-topic. If you have something to say on another topic, start a new discussion.
- There's no such thing as a stupid question. Please be polite and constructive in your response to other members at all times.
- If you see any comment or resource that you think is inappropriate (it doesn't adhere to the community Rules & Guidelines), please flag it for moderation by emailing membership@aspih.org.uk
- Please do not post the same material in multiple communities.
- If you have any questions about the use of communities, please get in touch with membership.

How we moderate these communities

- To foster open sharing, we will not edit or monitor posts for content, but if any inappropriate content is flagged for moderation or otherwise brought to our attention, we will take appropriate action.
- In order to preserve an environment that encourages polite, constructive and fruitful dialogue, we reserve the right to suspend or terminate membership of our communities for anyone who violates these rules.

Legal Guidelines

This site ('Communities') is provided as a service for the members of Associated Simulated Practice in Healthcare (ASPiH). ASPiH is not responsible for the opinions and information posted on this site by others. We disclaim all warranties regarding information posted on this site, whether posted by ASPiH or any third party; this disclaimer includes all implied warranties of merchantability and fitness. In no event shall ASPiH be liable for any special, indirect, or consequential damages or any damages whatsoever resulting from loss of use, data, or profits, arising out of or in connection with the use or performance of any information posted on this site.

No information or other material protected by copyright should be posted without the permission of the copyright owner. By posting material, the posting party warrants and represents that he or she owns the copyright with respect to such material or has received permission from the copyright owner. In addition, the posting party grants ASPiH and users of this site the nonexclusive right and license to display, copy, publish, distribute, transmit, print, and use such information or other material.

Messages should not be posted if they encourage or facilitate members to arrive at any agreement that either expressly or impliedly leads to price fixing, a boycott of another's business, or other conduct intended to illegally restrict free trade. Messages that encourage or facilitate an agreement about the following subjects are inappropriate: prices, discounts, or terms or conditions of sale; salaries; profits, profit margins, or cost data; market shares, sales territories, or markets; allocation of customers or territories; or selection, rejection, or termination of customers or suppliers.

To ensure the best possible experience for all members in these communities, we have established some basic rules and guidelines for participation. By joining and using any community, you agree that you have read and will follow these rules and guidelines.

Review of these Rules and Guidelines

ASPiH reserves the right to review and amend these rules and guidelines at any time.